HITCHCOCK ET AL. LENDING AID TO THE GERMANS

(Philadelphia Record.) Now that Senators Hitchcock, Cham beriain. Weeks et al. have discovered, through the torpedoing of the Tuscania, one of the means by which Secretary Baker expects to have an army of 500 000 American soldiers in France early in the present year, it will be interesting to watch and note what military secret they will next try to wring from the reluctant secretary for the benefit of the German general staff. Under their foolish and persistent questioning the secretary was forced to make the ad-mission that he was not relying entirely upon American vessels for the transportation of our soldiers. There is nothing discreditable to American pride in this, for the lack of an adequate merchant marine has been bewailed for the last half-century. It would have been better, then, if the senators had observed a litlle more patriotic reticence on this point and not insisted on letting the Germans know that British vessels were to be used in carrying American troops. From such knowledge it was not difficult to draw the conclusion that British vessels would probably use British ports, and that submarines might therefore endanger the lives of American soldiers by in-esting the water surrounding Ireland. Having now discovered one of the irmy's secrets, it will be in order for Senator Hitchcock, who believes in all military policies being carried out with full publicity, to insist upon more light for the information of the people of Omaha and Council Bluffs. Why would it not be a good idea to tell in detail the plans for collecting convoys, their places and dates of rendezvous and the methods used in safeguarding transports and suppleasing news to the U-boat commanders. Incidentally it might cost thousands of American lives, but it would at least company is as good as that of its sick-bave the Hitchcock method of doing est guest. New York, March 4.—An opening advance of 22 to 33 points carried the cotton market into new high ground for the movement at the opening today, and March contracts, selling at 32.02c, made a new high record for the season. This was due to the continued strength of Liverpool, Liverpool buying here and a renewal of the demand from domestic trade interests, which was again accompanied by reports of strong goods markets and intimations that the government was about to blace further large contracts. There was a good deal of realizing around 31.50c for May and 30c for Cotober, which caused reactions of several points after the call.

The early realizing sales were readily absorbed, with the market reaching still higher levels before the end of the morning. The buying by Liverpool was the feature, while there was also continued trade buying and covering on the advance, which carried March and May into new high ground for the season. March sold at 22.18c and May at 31.70c, or 47 to 59 points net higher, while October touched 30.09c, or 35 points above Saturday's closing figures.

Reports that trade interests were buy-of 47 to 39 points are tober touched 30.09c, or 35 points above Saturday's closing figures.

Reports that trade interests were buying new-crop months as a hedge against forward sales of goods were followed by still higher prices during the early afternoon, with all months making new high ground for the season and advances of some 50 to 60 points from Saturday's closing figures. May sold at 31.81c and October at 20.35c. General business was not active, but the earlier buying by Liverpool and the trade seemed to have left very few contracts around the ring and the advance uncovered stop orders.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, March 4.—Dry weather in Texas, strong cables and further advances in the dry goods market caused an advancing tendency in cotton here today. In the first half-hour active months nose 25 to 27 points.

Reports that March longs would demand cotton for their contracts increased the demand. In the trading up to noon the rise was widened to 38 to 63 points, March being the strongest month.

A general covering movement among shorts developed. In the teading up to clock prices went 58 to 75 points over Saturday's close to new high record levels on the near months.

His Financial Condition Cause of Anxiety-Movement to Alleviate Conditions.

Myron E. Adams, executive manager of the Fort Sheridan association with headquarters in Chicago, is heading a movement, in view of the heavy expenses attached to the living of an officer who holds a commission in the United States army, to have some legislation at Washington looking to an alleviation of present conditions, and by providing commutation for the officer's family, in case he is ordered into service. There is also legislation providing that the overnment should partially equip officers for foreign service,

SACRIFICES HER HAIR TO HELP WIN THE WAR

MISS MARGARET LAWRENCE. Miss Margaret Lawrence, of Noxopater, Miss., is a genuine 9-year-old patriot. She has made a sacrifice which few girls would make - she cut off her beautiful hair that it might be sold to buy war savings stamps. The braid was sent to New York, where on March 2, Anna Fitziu, of the Chi-cago Grand Opera company, will auction it to the highest bidder. The money goes to little Miss Margaret, who will loan it to Uncle Sam. The photograph above was taken just be-fore the loyal girl parted with her 'crown of glory."

PATENTEE CANNOT

Supreme Court Ruling as to Patent Laws Affects Thousands of Dealers.

Washington, March 4-Decrees limiting the rights of a patentee under the patent laws to control the resale price of an article were rendered today by the supreme court.

A patentee, the court held, cannot, in selling his article to another, reserve the right by contract to fix the price at which it is later to be resold.

This interpretation of the paten laws was made by the court in an-swering questions certified by the lower courts in injunction proceedings restraining the Boston store, of Chicago, from selling, in violation of a contract with the American Graphophone company. Columbia grapho-phone records for less than the official list prices established by that company.

Affects 5,000 Dealers. The opinion is of vital importance, affecting not only 5,000 dealers in graphophone records, bound by similar contracts, but also thousands of dealers in many other articles, the re-sale prices of which are fixed by the manufacturers.

In opposing the granting of injunc tions, the Boston Store contended that in disposing of the records to the retailers the graphophone company resales and had received for the records all that it ever will or would be entitled to receive. It also was claimed that the "contract system" destroys all competition, thus establishing a com-bination to stifle trade, and also that the provisions of the contracts are unreasonable. This was denied by the company, which asserted the contracts prevent competition in the sale of articles made by various concerns in the same line of commerce.

It is presumed that the plan is to establish the arsenal and projectile plant on a part of the land already acquired by the government at Hadley's Bend.

This, in addition to the dye and acid

This, in addition to the dye and acid This, in addition to the dye and acid plants, will consume the major portion of the $200,000,000 or more which is intended for a projectile plant. It is probable that the dye and acid plants will be operated on a small scale until the war is over, after which the manufacture of powder and projectiles will be reduced and the facilities for making dye, acids, fertilizers and other products of a commercial nature will products of a commercial nature will be greatly enlarged.

The manufacture of projectiles in this country is being facilitated greatly by reason of an increase in the output of machinery which is capable of turning out finished shells at a very rapid rate. The fastest projectile machines are operated by electricity, and chines are operated by electricity a large number of these machines running day and night require an amount of high voltage current such as can hardly be gathered in any one plant. While the powder plant proper will have a power system all its own, this power system will not be sufficiently large to generate current for the op-

Make Nitrates Also.

It is considered very likely that a portion of their ni-trates will be made here in connection with the plant.
